

Autumn/Winter Newsletter 2011

This Month we have thoughts our very own Directors here at Helmsley Computers

Tough times ahead:

This year we look at the news and on a daily basis seem to be presented with gloom and doom. Working with a wide range of small businesses and private households we have a broad snapshot of how we all cope and carry on with these additional daily pressures.

With this in mind we would encourage you to speak to us about anything that can make the running of your days a little easier as we are keen to show how we can be of help - you all probably know by now that we care a great deal and are always here to help and if we can be as flexible as possible.

We all struggle with new ideas of how to move forward so again I would suggest dropping us a line and we will be happy to sit down, listen and help. This we will do without charge however long it takes.

So please remember us when you need a little help and tell us if things need to be changed - flexible times need flexible solutions and technology seems to be against us rather than helping us at times.

All the very best for 2011

Andy and Andrew
